Do you smell Natural Gas?

REPORT SUSPECTED NATURAL GAS LEAKS

Natural gas customers are reminded to report any possible natural gas odors! Coon Rapids Municipal Utilities has trained gas service personnel available at all times to respond to customer calls and to investigate any suspected natural gas leaks. The 24-hour service number is 999-2225.

Customers and public safety are always given first priority in the operation of the CRMU natural gas system. Gas odor calls are treated as service emergencies at CRMU and the response is immediate. In most cases, the problem will be minor and easily corrected, or the offensive odor will be from another source. Regardless of the situation, CRMU is always willing to make a quick response.

IF YOU SMELL GAS...

- Do not turn electric switches on or off.
- Do not use the doorbell or phone.
- Do not smoke.
- Extinguish all open flames.
- Evacuate all residents and notify CRMU.

Do not rely on the intensity of the gas odor to gauge the degree of danger presented by a leak.

HOLIDAY LIGHTING CONTEST

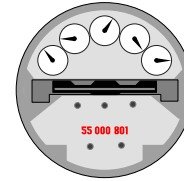

CRMU encourages everyone to get into the Holiday Spirit and decorate your homes with beautiful lights.

12 - $25.00 Prizes

ARE YOUR METERS ACCESSIBLE?

CRMU meter readers play an important role in both the billing process and quality of service we are able to provide to our customers.

Icy sidewalks and steps, snow covered toys, barking dogs, overgrown shrubs and trees are all potential dangers that our meter readers encounter.

On behalf of all our meter readers and service personnel, we thank you for your cooperation in helping us serve you safely and efficiently this winter.

Cable Television Rates to Increase $5 per month

Effective with service starting January 1, 2007, cable television rates (including bundled packages) will increase $5 per month. The increase was necessary to help offset increased programming costs from the networks.
